

New Year Future Continuous/ State Verbs

Worksheet 1- Writing, listening and speaking

Fill in at least half the sentences below with something true for you:

This time next year I'll be thinking about _____ be worrying about _____ be living in _____

be planning to _____ be wearing _____ weigh _____ be feeling _____ have _____ want _____ belong to _____ look _____ be practising _____ be preparing for _____

(If you have no ideas for what exactly will be happening, you can use vague language like:

“almost exactly the same as now” or “something completely different to now”)

New Year Future Continuous/ State Verbs

Worksheet 2- State Verbs Grammar Presentation

Some of the verbs on Worksheet 1 were not used in the Future Perfect Continuous because they are State Verbs that cannot take -ing. Without looking back at Worksheet 1, cross out the forms below that are not correct because the -ing form is impossible (the Will + Infinitive form is always okay)

I'll think about/ I'll be thinking about _____

I'll worry about/ I'll be worrying about _____

I'll live in/ I'll be living in _____ I'll plan to/ I'll be planning to _____ I'll wear/ I'll be wearing _____

I'll weigh/ I'll be weighing _____

I'll feel/ I'll be feeling _____

I'll have/ I'll be having _____ I'll want/ I'll be wanting _____ I'll belong to/ I'll be belonging to _____ I'll look/ I'll be looking _____

I'll practice/ I'll be practising _____

I'll prepare/ I'll be preparing for _____ Check your answers with Worksheet 1. If there is no -ing form on Worksheet 1 it is incorrect for that meaning of the verb and should be crossed out on Worksheet 2 (but see alternative meanings below)

What is the difference in meaning between the following verbs?

I'll have two cats/ I'll be having a shower

I'll look quite a lot older/ I'll be looking at the Eiffel Tower
